Defendant(s).

The following statements and exchanges from the official transcript and audio recording of the February 7, 2024 hearing demonstrate Judge Stephen Lowney's extortion of financial assets, vehicle title documents, and the minor child's identifying documents, coupled with explicit and implicit threats of adverse judicial action, including declaration as a vexatious litigant, denial of access to the courts, contempt proceedings, and further malicious prosecution.

1. Coercion to Surrender 401(k) Retirement Funds and Insistence on Court-Appointed QDRO Expert Known For Financial Fraud

Judge Stephen Lowney required Petitioner to surrender control of his 401(k) account and directed that any division of the account would be handled exclusively through a court-appointed expert, Elizabeth Strasen, known for financial fraud, rather than through the standard Qualified Domestic Relations Order (QDRO) process available directly from the plan provider. Judge Stephen Lowney rejected Petitioner's proposal for an official QDRO prepared by the 401(k) administrator and stated that the matter would proceed only under Judge Stephen Lowney's designated expert known for financial fraud, thereby conditioning further proceedings on Petitioner's compliance with this demand.

Key Statements and Material Facts from Transcript of Hearing - February 7, 2024, Judge Stephen Lowney

2. Coercion to Transfer Vehicle Title and Surrender Vehicle Title Documents

During discussion of property division, Judge Stephen Lowney explicitly required Petitioner to immediately transfer and surrender the title documents for the vehicle at issue. Judge Stephen Lowney framed this as a non-negotiable condition for resolution of pending matters and indicated that failure to comply would result in continued adverse rulings and denial of relief sought by Petitioner.

3. Extortion of Minor Child Max Mars's Passport, Vaccination Records, and All Identifying Documents for Child Trafficking / International Abduction outside of the United States to Ukraine, Coupled with Threats of Vexatious Litigant Declaration and Denial of Court Access

Judge Stephen Lowney demanded that Petitioner surrender the minor child Max Mars's passport, vaccination card, and all other identifying and travel documents to enforce international abduction of Petitioner's son Max Mars outside of the United States to Ukraine - endangering life of Petitioner's son Max Mars due to ongoing war in that country. When Petitioner sought a custody review hearing, Judge Stephen Lowney conditioned any consideration of custody or visitation issues on immediate compliance with this demand. Judge Stephen Lowney expressly warned that continued resistance would result in Petitioner being declared a vexatious litigant, thereby barring him from filing any further actions or seeking relief in the California courts. This threat was made in direct response to Petitioner's requests for a custody review hearing, trial on the domestic violence restraining order, final trial on all issues, and bifurcation of marital status.

4. Denial of Custody Review Hearing, DVRO Trial, Final Trial, Bifurcation, and Settlement Conference as Leverage for Extortion

Petitioner requested an immediate custody review hearing, trial on the mutual domestic violence restraining orders, final trial on all remaining issues, and bifurcation of the marital status. Judge Stephen Lowney denied each request and removed the final trial and mandatory settlement conference from the calendar. Judge Stephen Lowney stated that these matters would not be heard unless and until Petitioner complied with the demands for the 401(k) account, vehicle title, and the minor child's documents. Judge Stephen Lowney further indicated that non-compliance would result in additional contempt proceedings and further malicious prosecution by the Court.

5. Additional Coercive Statements, Implicit Threats of Denial of Access to Court, Contempt and Further Malicious Prosecution

Throughout the hearing, Judge Stephen Lowney repeatedly framed Petitioner's requests for due process (custody review, evidentiary hearings, and trial) as contingent upon immediate surrender of the financial and custodial documents demanded. Judge Stephen Lowney stated that Petitioner's failure to provide the required documents and accounts would lead to the imposition of further pressure through the Court's contempt powers, denial of access to court, and further complication of proceedings. These statements, when viewed in the full context of the hearing, constitute coercion and extortion under color of law by conditioning fundamental constitutional rights (access to court, custody determination, and liberty) on Petitioner's compliance with the Court's extrajudicial demands for assets and documents - establishing pater of extortion and racketeering under color of state law.

Key Statements and Material Facts from Transcript of Hearing - February 7, 2024, Judge Stephen Lowney

These excerpts are corroborated by the full audio recording and certified transcript, both of which are included as Exhibits B-14 and B-15 in the Consolidated Evidence Binder. The pattern of demands for Petitioner's retirement funds, vehicle title, and the minor child's essential documents - paired with explicit threats of vexatious litigant status, denial of court access, contempt, and further prosecution - establish a clear record of coercion, extortion and racketeering under color of state law.

JUDGE STEPHEN LOWNEY: The orders stand.

MR. MARS: I kindly request to stay this order until trial on opposing DVROs will be heard.

JUDGE STEPHEN LOWNEY: Denied. You must comply with the orders.

MR. MARS: Your Honor, my son will be abducted to Ukraine and will never return. There is a war. Max can die.

JUDGE STEPHEN LOWNEY: I want you to listen to the court. We have just gone over a vexatious litigant analysis. I've asked for further briefing. And I've asked to see all of the conduct in this case regarding filed motions. What is also really relevant to that designation and to the court in general is when you are ordered to do something by the court, that you comply - and that goes with both parties - and you are not complying. It's not good.

S.Group

Unverified version (what to do?)

Material from Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia.

S.Group is a group of Ukrainian companies that produce food products and household goods. The group is one of the leading Ukrainian manufacturers of snack products (peanuts, pistachios, packaged sunflower and pumpkin seeds, potato and pita chips, extrusion), as well as a major exporter to the countries of Central Asia and the Middle East.

History

S.Group companies have been operating on the market since 1995 as part of SIGroup, founded by entrepreneurs Serhiy Rybalka and Ivan Omelchenko. However, after the division of SIGroup, the new structure entered the market on August 1, 2014. S.Group includes some of the production facilities, structural divisions, and trademarks of the "merged" company.

Structure

The group structure includes LLC "Prodexport-2009", LLC "Snek-Export" (<https://web.archive.org/web/20151213162605/http://sgroup.dp.ua/biznes-napravleniya/proizvodstvo-snekov/>), LLC "Clean Planet" (<https://web.archive.org/web/20151212182540/http://sgroup.dp.ua/biznes-napravleniya/celyulozno-bumazhnaya-produkciya/>), DP "YUMAK", LLC "Agrosakhinvest 2002", LLC "New Company 2006", LLC "Faeton-Trans" (<https://web.archive.org/web/20151222092504/http://sgroup.dp.ua/biznes-napravleniya/transportnye-perevozki-2/>) (logistics company). Up to 30% of production in the snack segment and up to 15% in the household goods segment is exported . The company's products are supplied to Kazakhstan , Kyrgyzstan , Georgia , Moldova , Belarus , Tajikistan , Iran , Saudi Arabia , Morocco , Algeria , Mongolia , Uzbekistan , Latvia , Lithuania , Estonia , Israel , Bulgaria . The entire product range is exported to most countries.

Conflict with ATB

The cause of the corporate conflict between S.Group and ATB-Market was a family conflict between the founders of the two structures — Sergey Rybalko and his former father-in-law Gennady Butkevych (father of Rybalko's ex-wife Hanna Butkevych). In 2013 , with the assistance of Butkevych, the tax and police carried out numerous searches and stopped production at Rybalko's enterprises, which forced him to leave the country. Law enforcement agencies accused the company of tax evasion. After the Revolution of Dignity, the persecution stopped.

Currently, the parties are in a court economic dispute regarding the repayment by ATB of a debt of over UAH 110 million for the delivered goods. In turn, ATB accuses its opponents of creating an organized criminal group with the aim of seizing someone else's property. According to S.Group, in November 2015, the General Director of ATB-Market LLC, Dmytro Yevteyev, filed a corresponding application with the Prosecutor's Office of the Dnipropetrovsk Region . However, the application was accepted only by the Prosecutor General's Office .

In court, copies of documents are provided to confirm the absence of debt, which S.Group calls falsified. ATB does not provide the originals. The case is under consideration in the Kyiv Commercial Court of Appeal .

New life after divorce: the story of S.Group

How to benefit from disagreements with a partner and strengthen your position in the market, despite the crisis.

"We managed to get into the top ten with this product," — Dmitry Rybalka, Chairman of the Board of Directors of S.Group, twirls a pack of TM "Sneikin" crackers in his hands and examines the funny character on the package. A year and a half ago, after 19 years of work in the snack market, he and his brother Sergey had to rebuild half of the production processes from scratch after "divorcing" with their partner. "Having set out on our own, we were able not only to increase production, but also to release fundamentally new products," he adds.

How the roads diverged

Entrepreneurs Serhiy Rybalka and Ivan Omelchenko have been friends since they were 14 years old. In the early 1990s, they decided to start a joint business - they were among the first to import imported household chemicals to Ukraine. After some time, they founded the company SiGroup, which very quickly became a leader in the production of snacks. The successful development of the joint business was stopped by Rybalka's family conflict with his former father-in-law - co-owner of the country's largest supermarket chain "ATB-Market" Gennady Butkevych.

"I was searched, drugs were planted, and many criminal cases were opened. Our products were "exhibited" from "ATB", which had a critical impact on sales. It probably seemed to the partner that I, being in prison with one foot, was dragging the business to the bottom. He decided to separate, I learned about it as a fait accompli," says Serhiy Rybalka. Thus, two experienced players, once united by one goal, emerged on the Ukrainian snack market: S.Group and Snack Production. Ivan Omelchenko refused to comment on the story of the divorce.

From monopolist to leader

It was not easy sailing on its own. Rybalka considers the division unfair, primarily because his ex-partner Omelchenko, who was responsible for personnel in the joint business, took the main part of the team with him. In addition, S.Group inherited the debts of ATB-market for the delivered goods totaling $15 million. However, the main difficulty was to divide the brands.

Before the division, SiGroup was a leader and de facto monopolist in the production of various types of snack products. S.Group received Semki seeds, Kozatskaya razvoja peanuts (later Kozatskaya slava), pistachios and chips under the Macho and Red brands, as well as the entire pulp and paper business and the logistics company Phaelon-Trans. Snack Production received the flagship Flint crackers and Morski seafood, and the Khutorok consumer goods line. "Our proposal was quite peaceful: everyone develops the group of products that remained after the division, we work in our riches, we do not interfere with each other. But my former partner decided otherwise and began to develop the areas that were transferred from SiGroup to our structure. Of course, we also decided to expand the lost areas, as well as develop new ones," says Dmitry Rybalka. Thus, the S.Group portfolio includes crackers, croutons, pita chips, potato chips, extrusion under the "Sneikin" brand, seafood "My Fisherman", and Lavka seeds.
