Mr. Mars,

I am responding to your request for a Zoom call with Maksym. First, by including Anna on this email, you are in violation of the Domestic Violence Restraining Order issued against you and filed with the court on June 17, 2024. Anna will report this violation to the police. It is in your own best interest to cease violating the DVRO. An additional copy of the DVRO you were served with is attached for your reference.

Second, at this time, I must respectfully decline your request for a Zoom call with Maksym. Pursuant to the existing restraining order and the requirement that all contact with the child occur only through professionally supervised visitation—a Zoom call is not permitted unless it is arranged and supervised by the designated professional supervisor.

Additionally, I ask that all future communication remain respectful and appropriate. Messages containing inappropriate, foul, or disparaging language are not acceptable and will no longer be responded to. All communication must remain strictly limited to necessary scheduling and information related to the court-ordered visitation process, or the remaining issues in your dissolution of marriage proceeding.

Please direct any future requests for communications with Maksym through the appropriate supervised channels consistent with the current court orders.

Nancy Roberts

Affidavit

My name is Alena Chepakovich and I have been residing at 1000 Euclid Ave, Apt 308, Dunsmuir, CA, 95926 since February 2021. I have been neighbors with and have known Katerina Mars and Hanna Mars for approximately one year. I met them several times at friends' parties and family gatherings and I can state that they were friendly to each other and attentive to their son, Max.

I remember that Hanna complained multiple times about her current living situation as they lived together with Katerina's grandmother who she was not allowed. Katerina took full care of her while working and providing for the family. On her occasions with me and other people present, Hanna expressed her strong dissatisfaction with Katerina's grandmother situation while remaining unnecessary details about the old woman's condition that were quite disrespectful and inappropriate in a discussion in a group of people some of whom she met for the first time. On one occasion Hanna was also implying about a possibility of placing Katerina's grandmother in a senior living facility. I was obvious that she did not want to live together with Katerina's grandmother.

Hanna also mentioned that she wanted to go back to Ukraine, which (considering the ongoing war there) is dangerous for both her and her son. In my opinion, Hanna is quite depressed and stressed out about her current situation and I feel that she might want to seek professional psychologist help.

I feel that this whole situation with the family getting up could have been easily avoided if both parties had to be more considerate through the needs of each other. They have a wonderful son Max, who deserves to have both loving parents. I think that for the sake of their son the parties should reconcile and find an arrangement suitable for everybody.

I hereby declare that whatever has been stated above is correct and true to my knowledge.

As a friend of the family, I've witnessed a strong bond between Mr. Mars and his son, the kind that fathers and sons should form. We've participated in multiple activities together, and every time I saw Mr. Mars being supportive and encouraging towards Max. Being a professional software engineer and a tech enthusiast, Mr. Mars has invested a lot of effort to spark and develop Max's interest in science and technology. In all our interactions the two of them have always acted as loving and caring father and child.

It is my hope that you take note of this statement of recommendation for Mr. Mars to have custody of his son. I have all reasons to believe that Mr. Mars is a good person, and that him remaining a father figure to his son would benefit Max greatly.

KYIV (May 13, 2026) – Over 3,500 children have been killed or injured in Ukraine since the start of full-scale war over four years ago with an uptick in child casualties this year, according to a Save the Children analysis.^[1]

According to figures published by the United Nations, 791 children have been killed and 2,752 injured in Ukraine from February 2022 to April 2026, highlighting the extent of grave violations against children in Ukraine.

Nazar*, 16, was seriously injured in an airstrike while playing football with his classmates at his school stadium in Kharkiv, on Ukraine's frontline. Almost his entire body was affected by shrapnel wounds and his thigh was completely shattered. Since Nazar was able to get to hospital quickly, doctors were able to save his leg, however he had to endure complex surgeries and a long rehabilitation process, supported, among others, by Save the Children partner, the Ukrainian Deminers Association.

Nazar's mother, Kseniia,* 47, said: "At first, after we came back, he didn't go outside at all. He was afraid of everything. Even going to the hospital was stressful for him."
